

My name is Trine Lise Bakken. I am born in 1958 in Norway, near the capitol Oslo. Education includes a PhD with the title Schizophrenia in adults with intellectual disability and autism: behavioural indicators and examination of staff communication skills, a master in health science, and psychiatric nursing. Additionally, I have studied history of ideas, management etc. Currents positions head of research in National Norwegian advisory unit for ID and mental health, at the Oslo University Hospital, and associate professor at the Oslo and Akershus university college. I have previously experience from general psychiatric services, mainly in acute psychiatric wards. I have edited five books (in Norwegian) on different aspects of mental illness in adults with intellectual disability, and published about 50 scientific articles. Beside scientific tasks, I do some clinical work, mostly assessment of mental illness in adults with cognitive impairments. I am member of the board of the EAMHID.

